PRESIDENT'S REPORT ON 2000 CONFERENCE

By Thomas S. Gladsky

The Polish American Historical Association held its 48th annual conference at the Marriott Hotel in Chicago on January 6-8. The program featured approximately 35 scholarly papers and presentations by academic and professional leaders from universities, Polish American organizations, newspapers, and journals.

According to Karen Majewski, Executive Secretary, about eighty individuals attended our sessions, including about twenty non-member drop-ins from the concurrent conference of the American Historical Association. I was also very happy to see such a large turnout by Chicago’s Polonia. It was gratifying to see our university and professional people working together.

Three of the sessions which attracted strong audiences were those on “Chicago’s Poles,” “Polish Fraternals: Past, Present, and Future,” and “Polka! Polka! Polka!” In another session, Stuart Dybek, nationally acclaimed writer and Chicago native, read from works in progress. Dybek, a Professor of Creative Writing at Western Michigan University, is known for his stories of Chicago’s south side neighborhoods. His essay “Field Trips,” which he read at the conference, appears in the February 2000 issue of Harper’s.

PAHA members and their guests attended the Awards Banquet held at the Polish Museum on Saturday evening, January 8. Dr. Donald Pienkos, Awards Committee Chair and Master of Ceremonies, presented twelve awards on behalf of the Polish American Historical Association.

At its Board of Directors meeting, PAHA voted to hold the summer Board meeting in Kraków, Poland, in conjunction with the meeting of the Polish Institute of Arts and Sciences in America, scheduled for mid-June at the Jagiellonian University. The Board also approved transferring PAHA accounts from Penn Federal to Mesirow Financial of Chicago.

PAHA’s next conference is scheduled for January 4-7, 2001, in Boston.

SISTER ELLEN MARIE (ADMIRABILIS) KUZNICKI.9
CCSF, Teacher, Historian

Sister Ellen Marie (Admirabilis) Kuznicki, 82, a Felician Sister for 63 years, died in Villa Maria Infirmary, Buffalo, New York, on February 21, 2000. The former Helen Kuznicki entered the Buffalo Province of the Felician Sisters in 1936, and took her final vows in 1938.

In addition to a Certificate for Secondary School Librarianship, Sr. Ellen Marie received a B.S. in Social Work from Canisius College in Buffalo, an M.S. from Medaille College, and a Ph.D. from Kansas State University. She taught in elementary, junior high, and high school school for many years, before becoming an instructor in Social Science at Villa Maria College in Buffalo in 1961. She also served as Chair of the Language and Social Science Department and as College Historian. After 29 years at Villa Maria, she was awarded the title Professor Emerita in 1996.

Besides being a member of the American Association of Teachers of French, the American Historical Association, and the Kosciusko Foundation, Sr. Ellen Marie was a life member of PAHA, serving as president in 1977. Throughout the 1970s and 1980s, she was a member of the PAHA Council. She also served as PAHA Associate Newsletter Editor from 1973-1979, and Editor from 1979-1984. In 1982, she received the Mieczyslaw Haiman Award, and the first Distinguished Service Award, in 1986.

ARTHUR HALICKI

Arthur Halicki of Southfield, Michigan, died on October 6, 1999 at the age of 79. In 1910, Halicki's father, Walter, a native of Poland, founded the Halicki Travel Agency. Until his death in 1935, Walter Halicki helped exchange foreign currencies and arrange ship passage between Europe and Detroit. As ocean travel waned, Arthur Halicki and his brother Leonard began selling real estate and insurance policies, filing income taxes, and writing letters on behalf of foreign-born customers involved in labor or financial disputes.

In 1980, when the family home was razed for General Motors' Poletown plant, Arthur Halicki donated cartons of documents to the Burton Historical Collection at the Detroit Public Library. The unique collection includes more than 80,000 passenger tickets and bound travel books covering journeys made between the United States and Europe between 1910 and 1935. With donations from the Halicki family, the Walter Halicki Papers have been processed and microfilmed. The Polish Genealogical Society of Michigan is indexing the names.

BISHOP ARTHUR H. KRAWCZAK

Retired Detroit Auxiliary Bishop Arthur H. Krawczak, 86, died January 13 in Livonia, Michigan. Bishop Krawczak had been a life member of PAHA since 1961. Krawczak studied for the priesthood at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit and SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary in Orchard Lake, before being ordained in 1940. In 1951 he received a Master's Degree in Social Work from Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. In addition to assignments at several Detroit-area parishes, Krawczak worked with the Catholic Youth Organization, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and the Campfire Girls. He also served as Director of the Archdiocesan Refugee Resettlement Program, and Vicar of the Warren-Center Line Vicariate. In 1973, Rev. Krawczak was ordained a bishop for the Archdiocese of Detroit. Before retiring in 1982, Bishop Krawczak also served as Coordinator of Archdiocesan Central Service Officers and Regional Bishop for the Northeast Region. Detroit's Cardinal Adam Maida remembered Bishop Krawczak as a "driving force behind Catholic Services... [who] had a special bonding with the Polish American community."

COL. ANTHONY K. PODBIELSKI

Anthony K. Podbielski of Bayonne, New Jersey, died February 3, 2000, at the age of 91. He had been a longtime PAHA member, and wrote numerous monographs on the Polish heroes of the U.S. Revolutionary and Civil Wars, the Poles at Jamestown, the Polish settlement of Panna Maria, Texas, and other Polish American subjects. Podbielski underwrote a local General Pulaski Essay Contest and, with his son Thaddeus, authored the 75th anniversary history of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church of Bayonne, published in 1973. He was very actively involved in the project to enshrine the heart of Ignacy Jan Paderewski in the Chapel of Our Lady of Czestochowa in Doylestown, Pennsylvania, and in the transfer of Paderewski's body from Arlington National Cemetery to St. John's Cathedral in Warsaw. The Paderewski Memorial Medal which he presented to George A. Bush in 1994 is now in the George Bush Presidential Library Center at Texas A & M University. The many groups which have honored Podbielski include the General Pulaski Monument Committee and the Polish American Congress. PAHA awarded him a Certificate of Achievement in 1991. In 1992 he received the Silver Insignia of the Order of Merit from the Polish government.
SISTER ELLEN MARIE, PAHA PRECEPTOR
-Eugene Obidinski, Prof. Emeritus (Sociology)
State University of New York at Oneonta

It the Polish American Historical Association ever presented its own "academy" awards for outstanding achievement over the years, Sister Ellen Marie Kuznicki, CSSF, probably would have been honored for the best performance in many supporting roles.

As a Felician sister, she dedicated herself to a call to religious life. However, her vocation extended beyond traditional boundaries of a convent, chapel, or church to professional contributions including teaching, academic conferences, PAHA responsibilities, doctoral dissertation research, and ethnic community events.

Through such outreach effort, she not only helped us understand essential facts of Polish American community life but also--like most skilled social workers--she found time to listen to our problems and suggest solutions.

During one of my many visits in the early 1980s, I described an ongoing disagreement with a PAHA scholar, which was becoming more disruptive than decisive. After listening patiently to my complaints, she suggested a solution. "Cool it," she said. "Just cool it."

Who could disagree with Sr. Ellen Marie? Some other historian may consider that question when reviewing PAHA changes and revitalization during the 1970s and 1980s. After successive terms as Vice President, Sr. Ellen Marie became PAHA's President in 1977 and during the 1980s served on the council for several years before she became editor of the PAHA Newsletter.

The PAHA responsibilities as well as teaching duties at Villa Maria College in Buffalo often interrupted other scholarly projects--such as histories of the college and of the Buffalo province of Felicians--which demanded time, extensive documentation, and meticulous research skills.

Such skills and discipline were honed during Sr. Ellen Marie's doctoral dissertation research under Prof. Victor Greene at Kansas State University. Her excellent (1973) dissertation, a history and functional analysis of western New York's parochial schools staffed by Felician Sisters, provides unique insights into parish, family, and neighborhood aspects of Polish American community life. In her 1977 PAHA presidential address, Sr. Ellen Marie described the history of the parochial schools, criticism of school functions, and effects upon ethnic adjustment. The schools, she said, served as bridges allowing students to adjust to American society while retaining important Polish religious and cultural values. Perhaps her efforts within PAHA helped bridge a gap between older and younger membership factions two decades ago. If so, her supporting role endures.

KAZIMIERZ GROTNIK NAMED BISHOP

The Very Rev. Dr. Kazimierz Grotnik, PAHA activist and Polish American Studies indexer, was consecrated a Bishop in the Polish National Catholic Church, in a November 30, 1999, ceremony at St. Stanislaus Cathedral in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

As we enter the year 2000, some of us wonder what might be especially meaningful in the approach our Polish American cultural and fraternal organizations could take to make this century significant in the development and strengthening of Polonia. In particular, we muse what concrete steps could be undertaken to insure that a greater number of talented and highly qualified Americans of Polish descent would make significant contributions to the music, literature, and arts as well as to the governance of our country.

Much is now being written about how American society will look in about thirty years. Population projections indicate that there will be an even stronger Latino and Black presence. Certainly these two ethnic groups have already made major contributions to our literature and music and culture. Recognition has come to them through the awarding of Pulitzer prizes and having their compositions featured on the national stage. Even the coveted Nobel Prize in literature was awarded to an African American for her many novels depicting the plight of her people. Given these national trends, one raises the question, why has the Polish American contribution been so meagre? Witness the publication of Asian American novels like The Woman Warrior by Maxine Hong Kingston in 1976 and The Joy Luck Club by Amy Tan in 1989. Their effect on young writers has been profound. Nevertheless, the Asian Americans did not stop there. They formed an Asian American Writers' Workshop that publishes literary anthologies and a journal which features short stories, I NAME poetry, and essays. It also awards grants to novice writers and sponsors educational programs for writers. Where is our equivalent?

For over forty-five years, I have carefully read articles in 1ADDRESS the Polish American press as well as in newsletters of major Polish American cultural and fraternal organizations in order to follow events and understand current issues. Except for an occasional critical and constructive examination made by the late Dr. Kusielewicz, there was a lack of bold mission statements to be found. The line was that we are doing the best we can. How relevant a particular program might be in fostering pride of heritage, in acting as a catalyst in the creation of a work of art, or in leading to a scientific discovery, was never analyzed.

One area that our Polonian organizations have long neglected is the development of cultural or documentary video programs and insure that they be seen on national Public Television. If this is a matter that has been considered, it certainly has not been reported. Instead of just promoting Polish American History Month, it is time that our organizations underwrite the creation of some inspiring documentaries that could vastly influence how we, and our progeny, think of ourselves. Failure to capture the mass media and otherwise reach those with little identity as Polonians, is a condition we cannot allow to persist. When, we ask, will those at the helm in Chicago, New York City, and Washington, D.C., step forward and act boldly.

John B. Wodarski

The PAHA Awards Committee, in conjunction with the Board of Directors, honored the following individuals at its Awards Dinner, held at the Polish Museum of America in conjunction with its January conference.

HAIMAN AWARD: An annual award to an American scholar for sustained contribution to the study of the Polish American ethnic group. To Dr. Daniel Buczek, Professor Emeritus at Fairfield University, Connecticut, for his long, continuing, and significant contributions to scholarship in the field of Polish American history. Dr. Buczek's work includes at least three books an scores of academic articles, many of which appeared in Polish American Studies.

HALECKI AWARD: An annual prize of $500 to recognize a scholarly book dealing with the Polish experience in the United States. To Thomas S. Gladsky and Rita Holmes Gladsky, editors, Something of My Very Own to Say: American Women Writers of Polish Descent (Boulder: East European Monographs, 1998). The Gladskys' work not only brings to our attention the many and diverse contributions to literature made by women of Polish origin in America, an almost totally unknown topic in this country. They have also gathered together an outstanding group of scholars who write about the authors they consider; further, samples of the writing of each of the authors discussed are offered to the reader. This work should find its way into the syllabi of college courses on American, ethnic, and women writers for years to come. Its contents also represent a major contribution to our knowledge and understanding of the place of women in the Polish American experience.

To Joseph Wieczerzak, Bishop Francis Hodur: Biographical Essays (Boulder: East European Monographs, 1998). Wieczerzak's book is a collection of painstakingly researched and well integrated scholarly articles that together go very far in providing a coherent, comprehensive, objective and fairminded picture of life and illuminating the thought of the founder and long-time leader of the Polish National Catholic Church. It is also a solid source that will generate future research as well and is thus an important contribution to scholarship.

SWASTEK AWARD: An annual prize of $100 for the article published in a given volume of Polish American Studies. To Stanislaus Blejwas, "The Republic of Poland and the Origins of the Polish American Congress," Spring 1998. This article throws more light onto an important issue in the history of the organized Polish American ethnic community, namely, the relations between Poles and Polish Americans in the formation and development of one of its leading organizations, the Polish American Congress.

This is not only an important, interesting, and even controversial subject, it is also one that will continue to bring together American and Polish scholars for fruitful discussion and debate.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD: An occasional award to a PAHA member whose career has rendered distinguished service to the Association or to the advancement of Polish American history. To James S. Pula, Editor of Polish American Studies since 1982. Now in his eighteenth year as Editor, Dr. Pula's contributions in carrying on the work of his predecessors, the Rev. Joseph Swastek and Dr. Frank Renkiewicz, and the process raising the Studies to new heights, are evident to all.

CIVIC ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS: Occasional awards to a person or persons for accomplishments which have benefitted the history and culture of Polonia. For their dedicated service to the causes in the Polish American community which have animated them, the following individuals are recognized:

Maria Lorys, Editor from 1964 to 1996 of Gtos Polek, the official publication of the Polish Women's Alliance of America; author of two volumes of its official history; and long-time activist on behalf of Polish independence and democracy as an activist in the Polish American Congress and numerous other organizations.

Lucyna Migala, Founder and Director of the Lira Singers, which has brought recognition of the rich heritage of Polish music and dance to audiences locally and throughout the country.

Paul Valasek, President of and long-time activist in the Polish Genealogical Society of America, a national society headquartered in Chicago. Mr. Valasek has worked very effectively to carry on the efforts of his predecessors in strengthening and advancing interest in and serious study of genealogy and has developed close and productive contacts between the PGSA and PAHA, as well as Polonia's fraternals.

Frank Spula, National Secretary of the Polish National Alliance (since 1987) and Past President of the Illinois Division of the Polish American Congress (1993-1998), for his leadership in promoting knowledge and appreciation of Polish heritage. These activities include his work with his fellow PAC officers to make the annual celebration of Polish American Heritage Month a major event in the city and to raise the annual Polish American Heritage Dinner sponsored by the Illinois PAC and initiated by his predecessor, former U.S. Congressman Roman Pucinski, to new heights. (This success has been carried on by his successor as Illinois PAC President, Attorney Christopher Kurczaba.)

Jerry Kucharski, Vice President of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America, for his deep and intensive involvement in Polish culture as a teacher in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, as an ethnic dance instructor, as an activist in and officer of the PRCU, as a director of the PAC, and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Polish Museum of America.

Rev. Frank Phillips, Pastor of Chicago's St. John Kanty Roman Catholic Church, for his dedicated leadership of one of Chicago's greatest historically Polish parishes, and for his cooperation with the PNA in making the Church host to a series of highly successful concerts of classical Polish music during the 1990s.

CREATIVE ARTS AWARD: Presented for the first time, to Ada Dziewanowska, author of Polish Folk Dances and Songs: A Step by Step Guide (NY: Hippocrene, 1997). For more than three decades, Mrs. Dziewanowska has been a national leader in the teaching of Polish folk dance. Since 1979 she has served as Artistic Director of the Syrena Dance Ensemble of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Her outstanding book is an excellent presentation of some eighty folk dances of Poland, and at the same time a comprehensive and well-illustrated overview of Poland's regional heritages.

POLISH MUSEUM OF AMERICA MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

The Polish Museum of America was founded in 1935 to preserve the Polish past in America and to promote the history and culture of Poland. Since then, the PMA has rendered invaluable services to historians, researchers, students, genealogists, and others. The museum's permanent exhibits include the Paderewski Room, Fine Art Collection, Pope John Paul II memorabilia, Helena Modrzejewska costume collection, Polish Folk Dress collection, and Stations of the Cross from the first Polish Roman Catholic church in the United States, in Panna Maria, Texas. In addition, the museum regularly sponsors special exhibits. The latest of these, "Polish Art Deco from the PMA Collection," featured posters and graphics from the 1920s and 1930s, as well as sculptures from the 1939 New York World's Fair. Future projects, essential to the preservation of Polonian and Polish history, include the creation of a Polonian Room, the transfer to CD of World War II-era radio recordings of the Polish Government in Exile, the transfer of film archives to videotape, the sorting and cataloguing of the museum archives, and the microfilming of newspapers and periodicals.

As a non-profit organization, the PMA depends on individual donations, proceeds from its Annual Summer Ball, and a subsidy from the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America. However, in the face of rising costs, the museum is also launching a membership campaign. Annual memberships are available in several categories: Regular ($25), Patron ($50), Benefactor ($100), Institutional ($250), and Life ($2,500). Address checks or requests for information to The Polish Museum of America, 984 N. Milwaukee Ave., Chicago, IL 60622. Phone 773-384-3352. Fax 773-384-3799.

Within the next month, virtually every household in America will receive a census form from the U.S. Census Bureau. Many households will be visited by census enumerators. This is probably one of the most vital matters Polonia faces today.

One in six households will receive what is called the "long form." This long form is an attempt to glean more information about the American population: its income, housing, occupation, and so on.

Among the questions on the long form is one which asks for your ethnic background or "ancestry." You are given two blank lines and you may list up to two ethnic ancestries. (For example, you can list Polish and Italian or Irish and Polish or just Polish.) Unlike most census questions which force you to choose between two or more pre-determined answers, the ancestry question allows YOU to say who you are.

Why is this so important to you, your community, and to Polonia nationwide?

First and foremost it is the only way to tell how many Polish Americans are out there and where they are located. For those of us who advocate for Polonia, there is no more powerful and convincing statistic than to tell people that there are 10 million Polish Americans nationwide and we are America's ninth-largest ethnic group.

I live in Minnesota, not a state known for its large Polonia. When I go out and talk to various groups-Polish or non-Polish-people always ask "how many Poles are there in Minnesota?" expecting a low number. Thanks to the census, I can answer "a quarter million." I wish I could count the number of times I have seen peoples jaw drop on hearing this; how non-Poles start to pay much more attention to what Polonia has to say. Even more telling is how Polish Americans react on hearing this figure. How they sit up a little straighter, listen more intently. You can almost see the thoughts in their heads: "I am not alone! There are many, many others just like me!"

The census statistics are not pie-in-the-sky wishful thinking on the part of a few of us "radicals." In 1990, after decades of anti-Polish attacks and the pressures of assimilation, almost ten million people, without any prompting, urging, or coercion, voluntarily listed themselves as Polish Americans. They stood up and they were counted. The official media tell us that there are no more Poles or Italians or Greeks, but just a mass of homogeneous "white" people. The census long form tells us that the media are wrong. There are other reasons, too, to pay attention to this important event.

- Get a fair share of government and private funding for Polonia and its needs
- Help recent immigrants from Poland get access to programs all immigrants need to help them become productive citizens
- Help Polonia lobby for the cause of Poland
- Provide information for scholars who study Polonia

What if you do not get the long form? You can still help by getting the word out to others. If you really feel motivated, take the short form and where it asks for race/ethnicity, cross out "white" and write in "Polish American." Regardless of your ethnic background, you should never let other people, let alone the government or the media, tell you who you are.

Polonia's umbrella organizations have failed to treat this key issue seriously and seem to be ignoring it altogether. Fortunately, a committee of community-minded people has come together in Chicago to begin to get the word out to Polonia about how important the census is for our future. The Polonia 2000 Census has been working to educate people in Illinois on this issue. The flyers they have developed contain much of the information in this article in a neat and easily readable form. Community groups in other cities should follow their example. The Committee can be reached at 1-773-282-8206 x.336 or by e-mail at gwm@migala.com.

The census forms will soon be arriving in your mailbox. Are you ready? How about your friends, family, neighbors, and the people at your parish or your Polish club or organization?

As we enter the new century, let us do so in strength.

Stand up.

Be counted.
